

AS THE WOOD TURNS

August 2016 - Issue number 222

Next Hands On- August 6, 2016 and September 17th

We invite beginning turners to a learning opportunity at the Hands On for one on one instruction. Spindle or bowl turning techniques will be covered. Please reserve your lathe with Pablo Gazmuri @ pgazmuri@comcast.net

Some photos from the Hands – on July 16, 2016

Minutes of the July 26, 2016 meeting)

Visitors- Hannah Berman, Sharon, Mike Chalifoux, Dedham & Mike Teeley, Walpole

Steve announced that there is still wood out back from the Arnold Arboretum available and members should help themselves.

There will be a chainsaw party 9:00 am Saturday July 30th at 98 Bourne Park Ave. in Marshfield across from Gerard's Turkey Farm.

Arboretum update- We will pick pieces for display at the Arboretum at the September 27th meeting using the same selection process as last year, voting by members. We will take the top 25 pieces for display plus 10 more for reserve. They also want some items for their display cases which won't count against the 25 / 10 numbers as well as wall mounted items and hanging items. The display items go to the Arboretum just after the September meeting for advance display.

They will have posters announcing the exhibit at each entrance at the Arboretum this year to help get the word out to as many visitors as possible. We will be doing the exhibition again with the Central New England Woodturners and the Revolutionary Woodturners. Items sold during the exhibit will be marked with a sticker immediately.

Emily at the Massachusetts South Shore Audubon Society would like things dropped off for the December exhibit between November 28th and December 4th. There will be two lathes set up in the kitchen again this year for turning tops and similar objects for exhibition. Their Open House is Saturday, December 3rd. from 10:00 until 3:00. Items not sold should be picked up between December 21st. and 23rd.

Woodcraft is discontinuing their Easy Wood Chucks & Jaws. You can purchase the whole package for 35% off the retail price (was $399 now about $2 60).

The Dare To Dream Ranch in Foster, Rhode island is looking for donated turned items to auction off in order to raise money. Items are needed by August 25th. “Items that people can display in their homes/offices. Bowls, vases, pens would be a great start. Anything is appreciated”. If interested, bring your items to the August 6th Hands On or the August 23 meeting. A copy of the Dare to Dream brochure can be found at the end of this newsletter.

Tim announced the Brockton Summerfest is Saturday, August 20th at their high school.

John announced the club treasury has $1897.89 in the account.

Lenny Mandeville said the club has some new videos covering Making and Decorating platters, boxes, hollow forms and new embellishments. The DVD's are by Mick Hanbury (<http://www.mickhanbury.com/> )

#117, 118, & 119 – 3 DVD's on Hollowforms
122 & 123 – 2DVD's on Goblets

#120 & 121 – 2 DVD's on Boxes
#124 & 125 – 2 DVD's on Platters

Mike Veno expanded on the Brockton Summerfest event. It will be held from 10-4:00 on Saturday August 20th at the Brockton High School where we will have a booth with lathes to turn tops and a table to display and sell turned items. See Mike if you would like to take part.

Glenn Shaffer announced that he spoke to Bob Monaghan who told him that he needs to have hip replacement surgery soon. He is looking to hire and train someone to take over for him at South Shore Bearing in the interim.

Demonstration

The demonstration was a natural edge bowl turned by Steve.

Top row of photos ( 1-r)- Steve shows the bowl blank (Mulberry) with a one inch Forstner bit drilled hole to accommodate a four prong spur drive or a wood screw. Steve prefers the drive spur since it enables balancing the high and low natural edge of the bowl but chose to use a wood screw for this demonstration.

Center photo has the blank mounted on the lathe between centers ready for turning.

In the picture at the right, the bottom is being formed. For this, Steve uses a pull stroke with his bowl gouge. In rounding the base for the tenon, Steve uses a small spindle gouge to shape this. After the bottom shape has been started, you need to cut from the top of the blank where the bark begins toward the foot to avoid losing too much of the bark from spinning off.

Charlie McCarthy - a long stem goblet turned from Canary wood

Lenny Mandeville Longworth chuck and depth gauges

Mike Veno showed us a wood Frisbee he made for a boy scout troop. The center is plywood with several segmented Birch strips around the outside. The inside is turned as a shallow bowl.

Lenny Langevin's Eye bowl of Mahogany

Andy - Eastern Red Cedar vase mounted on a stone base with epoxy. He used a one inch bar in hollowing it out. He added a Grape vine to the outside by fastening it with escutcheon pins.

Ken Lindgren holds a spalted Copper Beech bowl with a Urethane finish. The center photo has his "Seascape" bowl which he partially bleached and dyed using an acrylic finish. The wood bleach is Kleen-Strip which is a two part setup. Ken made the two front feet shorter than the foot in the rear to facilitate it's appearance when displayed. The dyes, bleach & finish are all water base. Ken used gold paint on the outside edge.

Nigel shows a shallow bowl turned from green Cherry which he turned thin and allowed to dry some in hopes it would warp slightly before applying dye (Transtint) with an airbrush and then piercing a predrawn design around the base.

Tim Rix showed us a small bowl he had hollowed for potpourri from Apple.

Jeyna had a natural edge bowl she turned with assistance from Wally, Pablo & Wayne from Beech. She carved it to disguise the cracks in it. Jeyna's second bowl - warm Honey Locust turned with assistance from Steve which she plans to donate to her sailing instructor.

Wally had originally turned a closed form from a 40 year old Wisteria tree. He wasn't satisfied with the result so he turned it into an open natural edge bowl.

Glenn holds a Maple baseball bat he turned with the help of a steady rest. The next photo shows Glenn's two desk sets with click pens turned and assembled from kits. On the left he burned in "Captain Fred" and added felt to the bottom. On the right is a stand he made for Fred's wife, Judy.

Steve showed us a large natural edge Beech bowl which developed a crack in the bottom. Center photo is a small Maple bowl he turned with an oil and wax finish and on the right an Ambrosia Maple bowl.

Journey To Success: Focus On The Mission...

Learn new ways to increase your energy, explore healthy living, improve your confidence and communication skills; so we can help you find your dream job...

This holistic and alternative approach will include treatments like equine therapy, yoga, reflexology/massage, hypnotherapy/group therapy, horticulture therapy, nutritional cooking recreational therapy, woodworking, fly tying/fishing, and creative arts for our U.S. military service members and veterans experiencing PTSD, anxiety, depression and loss of job security. The produce from the garden will also be used to help feed RI's homeless and at risk veterans. A 12 week program including a job internship program will be designed to help homeless and at risk veterans become successful civilians.

Equine Assisted Therapy...

Equine assisted psychotherapy utilizes the horse's responsive nature as a therapy tool. They are naturally curious, have individual personalities, and mirror human behavior. The structure of EAP provides a unique atmosphere for the client to work through personal challenges. EAP provides clients with in-the-moment experiences to learn how to manage current situations and future challenges with a focus on personal strengths and resources.

Yoga...Body-based work, such as yoga, increases a sense of awareness, safety and mastery over one's body while building skills to effectively interpret and tolerate physiological and affective states.

Fly Tying/Fishing... "something you could go through and for a couple hours and you can forget what you've been going through and just refocus your energy"

Woodworking... meant to help put a veteran in touch with that creative side of themselves. Learn useful skills such as tool usage, critical thinking, planning, and patience and perseverance

Reset the Body Through

Reflexology... Application of pressure to the feet and hands with specific thumb, finger, and hand techniques without the use of oil or lotion. It is based on a system of zones and reflex areas that reflect an image of the body on the feet and hands, with the premise that such work affects a physical change to the body

Hypnotherapy...Used to create subconscious change in a patient in the form of new responses, thoughts, attitudes, behaviors or feelings

Horticulture Therapy... Learn to grow your food organically, and reduce stress and anxiety. Go beyond sustainability to integrate and connect people with their natural world.

Nutrition and Healthy

Cooking... Learn how what you eat affects your energy, thinking, libido, and your overall health and wellbeing. Learn how to cook what you grow.

Recreational Exercise...Builds strength, confidence and improves your mood.
